

English 574 – Reflection

As you look at this vast amount of material, take a look at the goals of the course and consider how you have developed as a teacher and writer as a result of your work

1. Give background in theory of teaching grammar (ideas, theories, concepts)
2. Demystify grammar and create knowledge of grammar as it applies to student work
3. Create chances to practice teaching grammar in the context of the writing process
4. Help you learn about ways to improve you own writing