Health Nuts!

- The Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation houses the first Unified Sports Program in the United States offered in collaboration with Special Olympics, a university, and the community.
- The Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation offers the nation's first accredited adaptive physical education preparation program.
- The Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation offers one of only 18 graduate level athletic training programs in the country.

My Experience

- WMU in three words: Fun, educational, variety.
- Anticipated graduation date: 2011
- Favorite aspect of WMU: The different things to do and see all around campus at any given time.
